Master of Kadosh

Brethren:

The Scottish Rite of Freemasonry

Human progress is our cause,
Liberty of thought our supreme wish,
Freedom of conscience our mission, and
The guarantee of equal rights to all people everywhere our ultimate goal.

These aspirations of our Fraternity become a call to action for all of us as Scottish Rite Masons.

The Scottish Rite Consistory Degrees, (the 31st & 32nd) attempt to illustrate the creation of the ideal balance between the spiritual and the temporal,

The 31st degree teaches prayerful self-examination.

The mistakes of today should not be committed tomorrow. Simply, the daily look at oneself to learn to live with the future.

The lessons of the 32nd degree – The Royal Secret are that "genuine brotherhood requires mutual regard, opinion, esteem and charity". We always look for the good in all, and make allowances for other's short comings. We trust the Supreme Architect to lead us to friendship, morality and brotherly love.

As an organization of mere men, we must seek the inspiration, and call upon the teachings, of the Great Architect of the Universe. We must strive to rise above our natural tendencies to act in our own best interest and work for the benefit of Scottish Rite Masonry, and all people everywhere.

I am extremely thankful for, and proud of the good work of my Scottish Rite Brothers. As Master of Kadosh, I call upon each of you, individually and collectively, to rededicate yourselves to our cause, our supreme wish, our mission, and our ultimate goal.

Fraternally,

Shawn Smith, 32°

General Secretary

SECRETARY SEZ—

It has been a busy month so far, Stated Meeting, first half of our Spring Reunion, Remembrance and Renewal on Maundy Thursday and the second half of our Reunion Class at the end of the month. Add in Easter and both tax days and I am tired. But what a fun time to be able to participate in all these days!

While taking a break, I started thinking about our Valley and Masonry in general. I wondered why our numbers vs. the general population keep going down. Masonry is less than 2% of the population and it used to be 4% of the population. What have we done or is this a general trend? Have we made it too easy and too cheap to become a Mason? Is being a member not valued like before? I would sure like to know the answer.

I have found Masonry to be a wonderful experience. I have learned many things, memorized ritual, been exposed to various charities and met and become friends with men that I probably would have never known. Becoming a Mason was one of the best decisions I have made. I hope you think so also and will help me find the answers to my questions.

On a less than positive note, we still have 43 members that have not paid their 2016 and 2017 dues. They will be suspended at the end of the month if the dues are not brought up to date.

Hope you all have a great May!

Ill. Bob McNamara, 33°

General Secretary

Greetings Brothers,

Once again this month I had to resort to borrowing from our Scottish Rite Brothers in Oklahoma for our Masonic Enlightenment article. Their Brothers consistently produce articles of interest to us all. Someday, I hope, we will produce articles of similar interest in our publication that others will use to inspire their Brothers. Please if you have any thoughts put them to paper and let us get them out there for all to enjoy.

Please submit any contributions for the OC Scottish Rite Newsletter to me by the 15th of the month at either sasrnewsbulletin@gmail.com or mshusaac@charter.net.

Venerable Master

Greetings from the East,

Being a Venerable Master is a responsibility that cannot be expressed in words. The joy of opening our lodge at every stated meeting is immeasurable and unforgettable. My eternal gratitude goes out to every member of our Valley for entrusting me with this most important responsibility. With that said, there is much to be done this year, as we grow our Valley and create activities for our ladies, as they are a pillar in our structure and one who unconditionally supports the ongoing labor of a Scottish Rite Mason.

Regarding our growth, I want to take this opportunity to complement everyone who participated and helped put together the first day of our Spring Reunion Class, which took place on Saturday April 8th at the DeMolay Center. We have welcomed several new brethren who seem eager to learn and involve themselves in the workings of the Valley. It is important to recognize that your participation makes us strong and fun. We look forward to the second day of our Class scheduled for Saturday April 29th. If you are available, please attend and support your brethren. It is critical for the health and future of our Valley.

When it comes to our Ladies, our plan is to come up with activities they can enjoy as a group and one they can do with the participation and interaction of our brothers. Very soon our ladies will receive communication about the events and dates, so they can make the necessary preparations and book their calendar. We look forward to seeing them have fun together in our Valley.

Remembrance and Renewal was well attended this year. It is vital to keep in our thoughts and prayers those that have gone before us, who filled our lives with happiness and joy but also, in going forward, we strengthen the bonds that tie us all together as Scottish Rite Masons.

Brothers knights, we all recognize and realize that our primary responsibility is to our family, but when that important matter has been addressed, we can aid by assisting in recruiting Master Masons into the Orange County Scottish Rite Valley. A petition will give a brother an excellent opportunity to receive further light in our Craft and, it will provide a new 32° Scottish Rite Mason a chance to become a Knight of Saint Andrew. Together we can make our Valley thrive.

Until next month brethren! As always, if there is anything I can do for the benefit of our Valley, please don't hesitate to email or call.

Fraternally yours,

Hon. Frankie Rosario, 32° KCCH
Venerable Master

Wise Master

Members, Brothers and Friends,

I would like to say thank you to all who attended the Remembrance and Renewal Ceremony on April 13th, it was conducted with great success and fanfare. If you were unable to attend, you missed out a wonderful evening of fellowship and food. A big thank you to, Phillip Liu, James McCallion, Bob McNamara, Dave Price, Mike Gowder, Shawn McCuen and Jeff Kimble for your commitment to the craft and our fallen Brothers. I hope to see you all for next year's ceremony.

The Spring Reunion was very successful, I have heard wonderful comments from the candidates that they were moved and inspired; a few have asked how to get involved and are interested in taking on parts. Great job brethren!

Fraternally,
Jay Webb, 32°
Wise Master

Commander

Brethren,

Thanks to your participation, the Spring Super Breakfast on March 26th was an outstanding success. We enjoyed strong ticket sales and a great turnout. Preliminary figures indicate that we raised more money for the valley than any previous breakfast. We want to give particular thanks to the following brothers who worked on the event: Ill. Rick Wood, Ill. Bob McNamara, Ill. Bob Hjorth, Hon. Dave Price, Hon. Waine Richey, Hon. Frankie Rosario and Brothers Shawn McCuen, Bob White, Anthony Fiorentino, David Frias, Jeff Kimble, Russ Albright, Jay Webb, James Cervantes, Ray Ramirez and Darrell Robinson. If you worked and we missed your name, let me know. With your help, we can make the fall Super Breakfast in September even more successful.

The sprig of acacia is an important symbol to the Master Mason. This plant, which still grows abundantly in the middle east, has different symbolic meanings to different groups. In Masonry, the evergreen color of the shrub represents the immortality of the human soul. In addition to the unending life of the soul, the year-round color and hardness of the plant suggest renewal and fortitude.

Fraternally,
Jamie Hopkins 32°
Commander

Masonic Enlightenment

Constitutional Union We Have Together

Robert G. Davis, 33°, G°C°

The oldest fraternal organization in the world is having a birthday this year! On June 24, 1717, four London Lodges, which had existed for some time, came together at the Goose and Gridiron Alehouse at St. Paul's Churchyard, and declared themselves to be a Grand Lodge. The delegates of the lodge at the Goose and Gridiron Tavern (now Antiquity No. 2); those at Crown Alehouse (no longer in existence); the officers of a lodge at Apple Tree Tavern; and the representatives at the Rummer and Grapes Tavern, met together on St. John's Day to revive a quarterly feast and organize a Grand Lodge.

Before dinner, they elected the oldest Master Mason present to preside, invested him with the Grand Badge of office and power, and installed him into the Chair. Anthony Sayer became the first Grand Master of Speculative Freemasons in the world. It was a foundational moment in the history of organized Freemasonry. It remains a once in a lifetime event for all of us.

It is a time for every Mason of whatever degree to celebrate our extraordinary, and so very special, association of men. Together, we are joining our fraternal brothers all over the world in marking a wonderful achievement, as well as expressing our pride in being part of a global society of men and brothers.

When I think about Freemasonry, I think about the many brothers I have known in America, and abroad, of whom I have marveled at their depth of understanding in Masonic history, philosophy, and symbolism. I think about the great Masonic authors of our ritual ceremonies and lectures; how I have always admired their gift of words, their understanding of our fraternity as an initiatory art, their particular Masonic interest in ritual; and even their stubborn tenacity to preserve what they knew and were taught, without which we would never have survived. All of this has brought us institutional stability and a degree of universality not experienced anywhere else in societal organizations.

I think about the early influences of our founding era men like Christopher Wren, Jean Desaguliers, William Anderson, George Payne, Martin Clare, William Cowper and William Stuckley; all of whom had considerable influence in moving Freemasonry from a social club to a philosophical society, and who worked out the many details of our fraternal government, customs and ceremonial forms during the first decade of our existence. I marvel at men who had a singular and lasting influence over the ritual language of Freemasonry—men like William Smith, who wrote a popular ritual monitor in 1735; William Hutchinson, who gave us the spirit of Masonry; Wellins Calcott, who inspired the charges of our Blue Degrees; the remarkable William Preston, who provided the real genius for our allegories and hieroglyphic instruction; and Thomas Smith Webb, whom Preston inspired, and published the first Masonic Monitor in America.

I think about my own father and the men of my youth who were Masons, and who taught me how Masons represent themselves with integrity and honor simply by the way they live. I think about the hundreds of Brothers you and I have known in our own state and time, who have shared the path of initiation with us, and made their own spiritual growth a way of life—a personal commitment to live and practice out in the world what they have learned within the tyled recesses of their lodges, chapters, councils commanderies, and consistories. I bring all of these men into your consciousness to make a single observation with you today—that together, we would know very few of them if we were not Freemasons. You and I enjoy some remarkable privileges in common only because we belong to this great institution together. We are each a part of its living body.

Language Center News

Welcome from the Orange County Childhood Language Center.

Getting ready for Summer:

As the Summer semester at Chapman University is getting ready to start on May 1st, the Orange County Childhood Language Center (CLC) is ready to receive a new batch of Graduate Student Clinicians to work with the children who are enrolled at the CLC.

During a recent visit to the CLC on a Friday, I was pleasantly surprised to see so much activity occurring. As children and parents were showing up for their therapy sessions, Supervisors and Student

Clinicians were discussing strategies on how best to help them. The room was full of positive excitement about the good things that are happening with the children who attend the CLC.

The CLC has expanded the services that are being provided to help children overcome communication challenges. Once a child has started receiving therapy at the CLC the Student Clinicians begin conducting hearing screenings. It is important to know if a child is experiencing hearing loss, as this could have a big impact on their communication skills. Luckily, it is possible to reverse the effects of hearing loss with early treatment.

As the spring semester comes to an end the SLP Supervisors and Student Clinicians will review the progress of each child that is enrolled at the CLC in accordance to the goals that guide the direction and desired outcome of the therapy sessions. As the goals are reached the SLP Supervisors, Student Clinicians and families determine whether the child is ready to become a CLC Graduate.

Congratulations to Tiffany Paredes-Carmona:

The California Scottish Rite Foundation awards the Baldwin Scholarship to deserving students who are pursuing a Masters or Doctorate Degree in Speech Language Pathology among others. This year Tiffany was selected as the winner. Besides being an outstanding student at Chapman University, she is also a member of our Language Center. Tiffany recently finished a four month internship at the CLC helping our children reach their communication goals. We are very happy for Tiffany as she is very deserving of this award from the California Scottish Rite Foundation.

Get Ready to Golf:

Back by popular demand the OC Childhood Language Center is holding our annual RiteCare Charity Golf Classic and Gift of Voice Gala Dinner on Monday July 31st. The Yorba Linda Country Club will again be the location and the golf course is looking especially great this year. Please visit the following website to register for golf and dinner.

Masonic Enlightenment (continued from page 6)

When the door opens for a candidate in the degrees of Masonry, we sometimes forget that he enters an institution which literally has lodges spread across the four quarters of the world. It may be a lodge of poor brothers only, or a lodge of farmers and stockmen, or a lodge of plumbers and tradesmen, of policemen and firemen, or a lodge of business and professional men; but whosoever is received therein is recognized throughout the Masonic world, in all countries, and among all peoples, as our Brother. And, my Brothers, this is a stunning privilege! It doesn't matter whether the lodge is decorated in all the grandeur of Europe's finest architecture, or is as humble in its appointments and proportions as the small country church, that lodge is a microcosm, a symbol, a speaking, breathing likeness of Masonry everywhere. It represents and contains the life of Masonry. Every ceremony of initiation across this globe of ours integrates the newly-made Brother into a peculiar quality of life which we know as the principle and essence of our Order. He becomes a part of our organic whole.

He is even told that he is the cornerstone of a new foundation, from which he has to build up himself stone by stone into a more refined and higher manner. He literally rethinks, and, in many cases, re-makes his life according to a new standard of perfection that is prescribed by Masonry. It is a moral standard with respect to his dealings with himself. It is an ethical standard with respect to his dealings with his Brothers and with mankind at large. It is a spiritual standard with respect to his duty towards God.

From the time the young neophyte is entered upon the rolls of Masonry, it is all about the training of himself. And if he is successful, the result will be perfect in its parts and honorable to the builder.

Each one of us in fraternal association together as "Masters of the Royal Secret" once laid a foundation stone of that new building which has become who we are. We have raised a superstructure according to the laws and order that the Bodies of Masonry have imposed on us. We continue that building even today as craftsmen, elus, princes and knights; and our work is not done until such time when we will be called by the Chief Overseer, Judge, and Architect of All That Is to demonstrate that our work here on earth has been good work, true work, square work, and has that mark upon it which will truly entitle us to all the wages of speculative Masonry.

Our secret art is therefore an art of life, an art of perfection, an art of creation in accordance with the prescribed standards recognized only in our private society of men. Our hidden mystery is the knowledge of ourselves, and our relationship to God, our fellow men, and the universe that is shown us through Masonry to be the higher law of our being—the center of our own transformation.

And those who are outside the lodge must come within it, if they desire to share in this life. It is really incommunicable beyond our mystic circle for the simple reason that it is life itself. It is something we couldn't explain even if we tried.

What a remarkable privilege we have, my Brothers, in sharing this mystic tie together. I have had the personal privilege over the years of actually getting to know some of you by face and name. But, the more profound recognition is that it is equally my privilege to know all of you. And I have known you ever since you were raised to the sublime degree of Master Mason and obligated yourself to know me as I know you.

What a unique and lovely thing it is--this constitutional union we have together
