Worshipful Brother Paul Revere

Brethren,

As we celebrate once again the birth of our beloved nation; I offer a reflection on one of our masonic heroes of that important epoch in our history.

In the early years of this country, before the spark of revolution kindled the flame that lead to the birth of our nation, many leaders came to the front. One whom everyone remembers because of a popular but historically inaccurate poem was Sir Knight Paul Revere.

The name of Paul Revere is important in the history of our nation but it is equally important in the history of the Masonic Order of Knights Templar in the United States. He was the second man to be Knighted on the North American continent – a full ten years prior to any recorded Knightings in England.

Revere became a Mason in St. Andrew's Lodge (working under a warrant from the Grand Lodge of Scotland as a "chapter"), in Boston, on September 4, 1760, the first Entered Apprentice to receive the work in the Lodge, and served as Master in 1770.

In October 1768, several British regiments arrived in Boston, including two Irish regiments who held an Army Lodge. The next month another Irish regiment arrived with their Army Lodge. They brought to Boston the knowledge of the Order of the Temple.

On August 12, 1769, at a meeting of St. Andrew's Royal Arch Lodge, four members of Army Lodge No. 322 were present. The Order of the Temple was conferred for the first time in the history of the North American continent on Captain William Davis, a Past Master, on August 28, 1769. On December 11 the Lodge Knighted Paul Revere and on May 14, 1770, General Joseph Warren received the Order of the Temple.

Tension began to escalate after the passing of the Stamp Act by Great Britain to help defray the costs of the Royal troops in 1765. The colonists formed the Sons of Liberty and rejected British goods. The Stamp Act was repealed in 1766.

The Townsend Acts of 1767 taxed glass, printer's lead, paper and tea. By 1770 all duties were repealed except those on tea and the principle of the right to tax was maintained by Great Britain. On March 5, 1770, British troops fired into a protesting mob, killing five, in Boston. The incident became known as the Boston Massacre.

On October 23, 1773, the patriot members of the North End Caucus of Boston, including Sir Knights Paul Revere and Joseph Warren voted to oppose the sale of East Indian Company tea with the "lives and fortunes."

General Secretary

SECRETARY SEZ—

It looks like summer is finally here! The office has slowed down a little bit and we have been able to catch up on some of the other Valleys' News.

Some of the articles that caught my eye were on “why were stated meetings so boring and is there any other way that we can get together with the brothers.” I thought about that for a while and decided that I am required to be there as General Secretary, but also I enjoy the friendship and interaction with my Brothers. Also, the Stated Meeting is necessary to conduct the business of the Valley. Our Scottish Rite News has calendars, phone numbers and dates for when our groups meet. If you need information, call the office at 714 543-7277 and we will help you find involvement.

IMPORTANT: JULY STATED MEETING IS ON THE 10TH AND NOT THE 3RD.

Ill. Bob McNamara, 33°

General Secretary

Editor

Greetings Brothers,

It is very important for all of those Brothers who are responsible for providing material for the Newsletter each month and, who are consistently late, to make an extra effort to submit on time. Please mark your calendar with the 15th of each month and submit your articles prior to that date.

Your assistance with this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Please submit any new contributions for the OC Scottish Rite Newsletter to me by the 15th of the month at either sasrnewsbulletin@gmail.com or mshusaac@charter.net.

Fraternally,

Venerable Master

Dear Brothers,

It has been an exciting year so far for our Orange County Scottish Rite Valley, as we have had an increase in our membership thanks to the recruitment done thus far.

Our last stated meeting was fun and well attended, and our dinner together proved to be an exciting night with good food and good fellowship. The coming year will provide plenty of enjoyment and opportunity to interact with our fraternal brothers and our ladies.

First, I encourage our Brother Knights to support in enlisting Master Masons into our Valley. With the next upcoming reunion class scheduled for September, now is the time to reach out and pursue new members. Two good reasons for this, a petition gives a brother an excellent opportunity to receive further light in our Craft and second, it provides a new 32° Scottish Rite Mason a chance to become a Knight of Saint Andrew.

It is similarly important for us to share with the new Millennial Generation of Master Masons our benefits. Our membership provides an outlet to their need for social interaction, purpose, and mental stimulation. As we know, socializing helps people live longer. Less stress, more physical and mental activity, as well as a purpose, have benefits which lead to a healthier and longer life. Please invite a prospective Master Mason Brother to an upcoming dinner. I bet if you do, we'll see the results in the growth we are expecting for our great Valley.

Please don't forget to attend the next Cap and Ring ceremony scheduled for July 10th, at the DeMolay Center in Anaheim. It is very important for us to support our new members during this very special night.

Until next month brethren! Remember, if there is anything I can do for the benefit of our Valley, please don't hesitate to email or call.

Fraternally yours,

Hon. Frankie Rosario, 32° KCCH
Venerable Master

Senior Warden

Greetings Brethren,

Welcome to July my brothers! The year is now half over, tempus fugit! If you read my article last month I talked about our Valley Ambassador Program. I have now taken over that program and am looking for 2 brothers from each Lodge to be Ambassadors. If you are interested please contact me ASAP! I will be reaching out to our current Ambassadors shortly, I look forward to working with you all.

Here are your Masonic tidbits for the Month of July: On July 19th, 1901 Sir Winston Churchill was passed to the degree of Fellow Craft in Studholme Lodge #1591, London. On July 4th, 1781 Brother Robert Burns was initiated an Entered Apprentice Mason in Lodge St. David #174, Tarbolton. Brother Robert Burns (Born 1/25/1759 –Entered the Celestial Lodge 7/21/1796) was a Scottish poet and lyricist, He is widely regarded as the national poet of Scotland and is celebrated worldwide. “In his short life time [Burns] created a legacy that has lasted to this day. His songs and poems, are one of the ways which Scots are known to have a different identity and a different culture, from the rest of the United Kingdom. Sadly, few people are aware that Robert Burns was a Freemason and remained so all of his adult life, indeed he was Senior Warden of Lodge St Andrew, Dumfries. (dormant) when he died.” (Quoted from the Grand Lodge of Scotland’s website.)

Fraternally,
Scott Davis 32°, KCCH
 Sr. Warden

Rose Croix

Brothers of the Rose Croix

Genuine Freemasonry, is a system of morals, and approaches religion: in fact, such was primitive Freemasonry. Ineffable Freemasonry is practiced with an eye single to the improvement of our morals, and a reference to those sublime truths which constituted its principal essence in the earlier ages of the world. It raises above all human institutions, and forms a beautiful auxiliary to the practice of religion. In no place, except in God's Holy Word, are the moral and social virtues enforced by such lawful sanctions and decrees.

The Rose Croix degree upon which we have now entered is called Ineffable, because they treat of the ineffable name of the Great Jehovah, and of his ineffable essence.

Freemasonry is an art of great compass and extent. Knowledge of its mysteries is not attained at once, but by degrees. Each degree in Ineffable Masonry is intended to inculcate a moral lesson and the practice of some particular virtue. Advances are made only by much instruction and assiduous application. Each step is progressive, and opens new light and information. According to the progress we make, we limit or extend our inquiries; and in proportion to our capacities, we attain a greater or lesser degree of perfection.

We the Novices are still in search of the Truth and the lost Masters Word, we journey for a period of years, learning the three virtues which are to guide us: from a place of horror and gloom, merges, at the appointed time, the sacred initials are revealed, giving glory to Masonry and light and life to the world.

The Rose Croix is the first of the Philosophical degrees, and the beginning of a course of instruction which will fully unveil the heart and inner mysteries of Masonry. Do not despair because you have often seemed on the point of attaining the inmost light, and have as often been disappointed. In all time truth has been hidden under symbols, and often under a succession of allegories - where veil after veil had to be penetrated before the true light was reached and the essential truth stood revealed. Would you but open your eyes and see, to look, is to merely observe, to see, is to understand the little pieces of life fit together like a puzzle, that every piece has a cause and effect.

Jay Webb, 32°
 Wise Master

Commander

Brethren,

One of the strategic objectives of Scottish Rite Freemasonry is to build a positive public image of Freemasonry and the Scottish Rite. Certainly, our well-managed Language Center goes a long way toward fulfilling this objective. The brothers who devote their personal time to the success of this endeavor as well as the generous brothers who make financial donations deserve recognition.

But beyond our Language Center, we have room for improvement in letting the non-Masonic public know who Scottish Rite Masons are and the values that we represent. We know that we are good men working on getting better. We also know that we don't discuss politics, religion or social status at our meetings and that we work together as equals, on the Level. Finally, we understand that the Scottish Rite allows us the opportunity for a more full exploration of our principal tenets of Brotherly Love, Relief and Truth as learned in the Blue Lodge.

One way of familiarizing the public with OCSR is to invite them to one of our open functions. This month, we will be sending out tickets to the brethren for our OCSR Fall Super Breakfast which will be happening on Sunday, September 17th. Many benevolent brothers buy more tickets than they will use which provides direct support to our budget and is highly appreciated. Some brothers have given tickets to interested Blue Lodge brothers who are not currently Scottish Rite members. This is a top priority for our Valley as it leads to new members who are vital to our continued success. However, after checking with all of your Blue Lodge prospects, consider giving your extra tickets to neighbors, co-workers or friends. Almost everyone enjoys a hearty, traditional American breakfast of omelets, bacon, sausage, hash browns and much more. Even more important than our outstanding culinary spread is the chance for people with no connection to OCSR or Masonry to see and meet us in a relaxed setting. My guess is these people will leave our banquet with a positive opinion of Scottish Rite and Masons in general.

Fraternally,

Jamie Hopkins 32°

Commander

Language Center News

Welcome from the Orange County Childhood Language Center.

Summer weather is returning to Santa Ana as the temperature rises and we click on our air conditioners to stay cool. Luckily everyone at the OC CLC is staying cool and making progress on their goals to become great communicators. When we think of Great Communicators I'm sure many of us will think of former President Ronald Reagan.

Regardless of your politics, I believe history would allow us to agree that President Reagan was a great man who made the most of his opportunities. He came from a poor family and through determination and education became an actor, poet, husband, father, Governor of California to President of the United States.

The most surprising part I learned about President Reagan was his love of Poetry. He loved to read and write poetry. Now I understand why he was such a great communicator. Our humble Language Center is helping the children of our community overcome their communication challenges. I think President Reagan would be very proud of our efforts. Through our doors could be a future leader who overcomes his or her challenges to become the next Great Communicator. Either way WE are creating this opportunity for the children who visit our Childhood Language Center.

Summer Fun!

The CLC enjoyed a special summer treat this week! In celebrating summer fun, the children participated in some craft activities. Our student clinicians put together three craft activities. During each activity, they could target their speech goals while doing something fun. The crafts included making a rainbow fish which went along with a book they read, making a pinwheel or wind chime, making slime and an ice cream cone!

The different activities exposed the children to new vocabulary as well as existing language skills. It also targeted following directions (put the pink paper on the fish) as well as have them answer "wh" questions (i.e., what do we need next?).

The children enjoyed the fun activities all the while working on their speech skills.

On December 16 the patriots, dressed like Indians, boarded the Darmouth while a crowd gathered at the wharf to watch in silent approval. Three hours later, 92,586 pounds of tea in 340 chests – valued at 9,659 pounds – had been dumped in Boston harbor. The British authorities made no move to stop the destruction.

Revere also became an expert on espionage. Keeping watch on British troops training and their movements. On April 15, 1775, the British troops under command of Lt. Barker began to scale up their training. Revere wrote to his leaders, "from these movements, we expect something serious was to be transacted." Sir Knight Warren sent Revere to Lexington the next day to transmit the news to Adams and Hancock. Apparently under his own initiative Revere made plans, upon his return, in case the British decided to prevent messengers from leaving Boston while the troops moved ("one if by land, two if by sea.")

On April 18, at 10:00 PM Warren sent for Revere to take news to Lexington that British troops were marching. He had already sent William Dawes, Jr., by land to Lexington but could not be sure if he had gotten safely out of Boston. Two friends rowed Revere across the Charles River. The signal was given from the steeple of the Old North Church by Captain John Pulling – two lights. Revere did not actually see the signal because it came as he was crossing the Charles River.

Arriving in Charlestown, Sir Knight Revere was warned of British patrols in the area. Even before leaving Charlestown, two British officers tried to detain him. He made a slight detour to Medford to wake the captain of the Minutemen and then continued on, alarming most of the houses along the way.

About midnight, Revere arrived in Lexington. Word was spread of the approaching troops and defense plans were completed. While attempting to spread further word to Concord, Revere was captured by British regulars. Revere, while being taken to Lexington for confinement, told his guards that a force of over five hundred men awaited them there. They decided to release Revere, who fled to Lexington and warned the patriots of the approaching troops.

Troops withdrew from Lexington and made their way to Concord. It was here, in the late afternoon by the bridge at Concord, the Minutemen "fired the shot heard 'round the world." The Colonials lost 8, British dead numbered anywhere from 247 to 273, depending on which historian is used.

Sir Knight Revere continued to work for the cause of the new nation. He engraved the currency of the Colony of Massachusetts and was employed to oversee the casting of cannon. After the British evacuated Boston, upon harassment by Washington's troops, it was discovered the cannon had been disabled by the removal of the carriages. Revere invented a new type and put the guns back into commission. He designed the first seal for the united colonies and designed and printed the first Continental bond issue.

In 1795 Revere became Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Massachusetts, a position he held until 1797. St. Paul Lodge, chartered January 6, 1797, in Groton, was one of the first daylight lodges. Their Charter bears Revere's signature and they possess a pair of silver ladles made by him and presented to the Lodge at its consecration August 9, 1797.

Soldier, Patriot, master craftsman, Mason – Revere's later years were prosperous. He died in 1818 at the age of 83. His grave, along with that of Brother Hancock and other early patriots, is in Granary Burial Ground in Boston.
